

Sirpa Pietikäinen

Member of the European Parliament

@spietikainen

Sirpa Pietikäinen is a Finnish Member of the European Parliament representing European People's Party (EPP) since 2008, and a former Minister of the Environment of Finland. She is a Member of the Committees on Economic and Monetary Affairs (ECON) and on the Environment and Public Health (ENVI). Within her work, she seeks to combine her two specialities, that of the environment and economics.

Sirpa Pietikäinen is a strong advocate of sustainable finance, and currently the co-rapporteur for the regulation establishing a framework for sustainable investments (taxonomy). Previously, she was the EPP shadow rapporteur for the regulation setting disclosure obligations for financial intermediaries and institutional investors regarding sustainability risks and impact in 2019. She has also served as the EPP shadow rapporteur for the European Parliament's Own Initiative Report on Sustainable Finance in 2018 and the rapporteur for the European Parliament's report on Resource Efficiency and Circular Economy in 2015. She is active in several organisations, including member of the high-level European Resource Efficiency Platform (EREP) and is the President of the Globe EU.
